NEW ALBANY

Oct. 23—Sad indeed was the news received Tuesday from Camp Sherman of the death of Carl Frederick Redinger, which occurred Tuesday morning, after a severe illness of pneumonia, following an attack of Spanish influenza. He had been in training for six weeks, and was expecting a furlough home soon, until the dread disease spread through the camp, claiming hundreds of our boys, Carl being one of its victims. He was 21 years, 8 months, 5 days old, and leaves his mother, Mrs. Anna Redinger, one sister, Marguerite, and two brothers, Frank and Joseph, to mourn his loss.

Carl was anxious to get into military service, ready when the call came for him to leave his home and friends, to go and fight for his country; ever ready to do his duty, as he bid his friends goodbye, with a smile they cannot forget. The death of this young man leaves a vacancy among the innumerable friends he leaves behind. The remains were brought to Youngstown last Thursday evening and funeral services were held at the home of his uncle, Gust Getz, in Salem Friday morning. Interment in Grandview cemetery.

We have lost a priceless treasure. But loss to thee is gain; Tired hands and weary body, Will know no more of sin and pain.

Though we miss thee precious soldier, We could not wish thee back again; To this world of sin and sorrow, Though the parting gives us pain.

But will strive, by thy example, And our Father's promise given: To do our duty as we know it, And meet thee in thy home in heaven.
